

Creating Social Stories and Visual Strategies

The Course will include:

- Why learners with Autism and Aspergers Syndrome (ASDs) need social stories and other visual interventions and how they can benefit from them
- An Overview of the ASD impairments, how they apply to social stories and other visual interventions and understanding how they work
- How to communicate effectively in order to enable social and emotional understanding
- How learners with ADHD, Dyslexia, Dyspraxia, and related conditions can also benefit from these types of intervention

Outcomes...

This training is supported by case studies and workshop activities during which each delegate will learn to:

- Use visual communication tools and aid social and emotional understanding.
- Create differentiated, age and level appropriate ways of writing and presenting quick, effective and accurate social stories and other visual interventions.
